A NOTE ABOUT FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

From time to time, CIBC makes written or oral forward-looking statements within the meaning of certain securities laws, including in this Annual Information Form, in other filings with Canadian securities regulators or the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and in other communications. These statements include, but are not limited to, statements about the operations, business lines, financial condition, risk management, priorities, targets, ongoing objectives, strategies and outlook of CIBC for 2006 and subsequent periods. Forward-looking statements are typically identified by the words “believe,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “intend,” “estimate” and other similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as “will,” “should,” “would” and “could.” By their nature, these statements require us to make assumptions and are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties that may be general or specific. A variety of factors, many of which are beyond CIBC’s control, affect the operations, performance and results of CIBC and its business lines, and could cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in any of CIBC’s forward-looking statements. These factors include: legislative or regulatory developments in the jurisdictions where CIBC operates, including developments in Canadian laws regulating financial institutions and U.S. regulatory changes affecting foreign companies listed on a U.S. exchange; amendments to, and interpretations of, risk-based capital guidelines and reporting instructions; the resolution of legal proceedings and related matters; the effect of applying future accounting changes; changes in tax laws; political conditions and developments; the possible effect on CIBC’s business of international conflicts and the war on terror; acts of God; reliance on third parties to provide components of CIBC’s business infrastructure; the accuracy and completeness of information provided to CIBC by clients and counterparties; intensifying competition from established competitors and new entrants in the financial services industry; technological change; global capital market activity; interest rate fluctuations; currency value fluctuations; general economic conditions worldwide, as well as in Canada, the U.S. and other countries where CIBC has operations; changes in market rates and prices which may adversely affect the value of financial products; CIBC’s success in developing and introducing new products and services, expanding existing distribution channels, developing new distribution channels and realizing increased revenue from these channels; changes in client spending and saving habits; and CIBC’s ability to anticipate and manage the risks associated with these factors. This list is not exhaustive of the factors that may affect any of CIBC’s forward-looking statements. These and other factors should be considered carefully and readers should not place undue reliance on CIBC’s forward-looking statements. CIBC does not undertake to update any forward-looking statement that is contained in this Annual Information Form or in other communications.

CORPORATE STRUCTURE

Name, Address and Incorporation

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) is a diversified financial institution governed by the Bank Act (Canada) (Bank Act). CIBC was formed through the amalgamation of The Canadian Bank of Commerce and Imperial Bank of Canada in 1961. The Canadian Bank of Commerce was originally incorporated as Bank of Canada by special act of the legislature of the Province of Canada in 1858. Subsequently, the name was changed to The Canadian Bank of Commerce and it opened for business under that name in 1867. Imperial Bank of Canada was incorporated in 1875 by special act of the Parliament of Canada and commenced operations in that year. The address of the registered and head office of CIBC is Commerce Court, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5L 1A2.

Intercorporate Relationships

Information about the intercorporate relationships among CIBC and its principal subsidiaries is provided on page 152 of the 2005 AAR.

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

Three Year History

CIBC entered 2003 with a commitment to four clear business strategies: improving productivity, reducing risk, changing its business mix, and growing core businesses. With mandated risk reductions in its wholesale business complete, litigation risk significantly reduced, and having achieved its desired change in business mix, CIBC refocused its business strategies during 2005. The key priorities moving forward are to maintain business strength, improve productivity and restore balance sheet strength.

Business mix¹:

At the end of 2004, primarily as a result of significant reductions in wholesale economic capital, CIBC had achieved its 2002 objective to change its mix of economic capital to 70% retail/30% wholesale. A new objective was established to manage economic capital within a range of 65%-75% retail/25%-35% wholesale. CIBC's business mix at the end of 2005 is within its stated objective.

Business strength:

CIBC Retail Markets, which now comprises CIBC's retail and wealth businesses, has produced solid results over the last three years. CIBC's cards business leads the industry in purchase volumes and outstanding balances. The CIBC Aerogold VISA card continues to be the industry leader in a mature and intensely competitive marketplace. CIBC has grown its cards business and increased Aerogold card outstandings approximately 4-5% annually over the past three years. However, absolute increases have not kept pace with double-digit industry growth rates over this period, as the Aerogold franchise has matured and CIBC has been actively slowing growth in cards to bring down its loan loss rate for this business, which is now below 4% after having peaked at higher levels. CIBC's residential mortgages business is in a strong #2 position, having been successful in segmenting the marketplace and the introduction of new products to the market at the right time. Our growth in residential mortgages has outpaced the market, with balances increasing 10.5% annually, on average, over the past three years. CIBC's deposits business is one of strength and stability, with average consumer deposits growing steadily over the past three years from approximately $24 billion to over $31 billion. In mutual funds, balances are up from approximately $33 billion at the end of 2002 to over $43 billion at the end of 2005. Imperial service, created six years ago to provide personalized advice to the top 15% of branch banking clients, has increased its number of licensed investment advisors and investment specialists to 1,070. Funds managed per advisor is up 18.5%, since the end of 2002. CIBC Wood Gundy is the #2 full-service brokerage in Canada, as measured in assets, having grown assets under administration from $83 billion to over $109 billion over the past three years.

In the area of consumer credit, CIBC's loan losses remain higher than the industry. Over the past three years, CIBC has focused on reducing risk and capital in its wholesale operations. During this period, the bank's personal lending policies, particularly for unsecured loans and lines of credit, were more aggressive than its industry peers, which led to higher market share at the expense of higher loan losses than the industry. CIBC is actively addressing this problem. CIBC refined the credit adjudication process on underperforming products, and increased emphasis on secured lending to bring the proportion of secured loans in line with industry levels.

In 2005, CIBC adopted a new reporting structure that combined CIBC Retail Markets and CIBC Wealth Management into one strategic business line, CIBC Retail Markets, to reflect a new organizational structure that was established to align our products, services and distribution channels to their relevant customer segments. As a result of the reorganization, CIBC now has two strategic business lines: CIBC Retail Markets which services retail customers and CIBC World Markets which services wholesale customers. These strategic business lines are supported by Corporate and Other.

In 2002, CIBC set a new direction for CIBC World Markets, consistent with CIBC's overall goal to reduce risk and earnings volatility. The business has made strong progress in many areas. By the end of 2004, two of the goals set in 2002 were achieved, a full year ahead of the target date of the end of 2005: (1) Total wholesale economic capital was reduced to $2.6 billion vs. a target of $4 billion; (2) large corporate credit economic capital was reduced to $0.8 billion, in line with CIBC's target.² In early 2005, CIBC achieved a third goal set in 2002 of reducing the book value of its merchant banking portfolio below $2.5 billion by the end of 2006. A new target was set to further reduce the carrying value to $1.5 billion by the end of 2006, which was also achieved before the end of 2005.

In Canada, CIBC World Markets has been the leading equity underwriter for each of the past three years. In 2005, the Canadian franchise was also the leader in income trust deals and retail structured products offerings. The U.S. business has been refocused, with investment concentrated on businesses that have good economic returns such as real estate finance, merchant banking, debt capital markets and equity-structured products.

Improving Productivity:

CIBC's medium term objective through 2003 and 2004 was for revenue growth to exceed expense growth and a ratio of non-interest expenses to revenue (efficiency ratio) of 60%. Throughout this period, a number of initiatives, including large investments in our branch network, higher spending on governance, the costs of complying with Basel II, and the consolidation of our New York premises, resulted in CIBC's efficiency ratio remaining higher than 60%, but more importantly, higher than the industry average.

CIBC is committed to improving its productivity. CIBC's objective is to have an efficiency ratio that is at the median or better among the bank's Canadian peers. To meet this strategic objective, CIBC set a tactical goal during 2005 to reduce our expenses by $250 million by the end of 2006.

² For additional information, see the Non-GAAP financial measures section in the 2005 Management's Discussion and Analysis on page 42 of the 2005 AAR.

About half of the targeted reduction is expected to come from lower project spending next year. 2005 project spend was greater than the bank's historical norms.

There is a cost focus in other areas as well, including discretionary spending and opportunities for efficiencies in CIBC's organizational structure. The bank announced it would realize annual direct and indirect savings of over $100 million from organizational changes, resulting from reducing layers of management and overlapping accountabilities within head office executive staff.

Balance Sheet Strength:

CIBC believes that a solid capital position is essential to maintaining business growth and prudently managing the bank's risk profile. The Enron-related litigation provision reduced CIBC's Tier 1 capital ratio to 7.5%, below its stated objective of 8.5% but above the regulatory minimum requirement of 7.0%. CIBC's Tier 1 Capital Ratio returned to its stated minimum objective of 8.5% in the fourth quarter of 2005, one quarter earlier than the stated objective of the first quarter of 2006.

The 2005 annual Management's Discussion and Analysis on pages 37 to 93 of the 2005 AAR contains further details on the general development of CIBC's businesses.

Trends

Information about the trends, commitments, events and uncertainties presently known to CIBC's management and reasonably expected to have a material effect on CIBC's business is provided throughout Management's Discussion and Analysis on pages 37 to 84 of the 2005 AAR.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS

The CIBC Organization

CIBC's two strategic business lines are CIBC Retail Markets, and CIBC World Markets. These business units are supported by five functional groups: Administration; Corporate Development; Finance; Technology and Operations and Treasury and Risk Management. Information about CIBC's business lines and functional groups is provided on pages 37 to 62 of the 2005 AAR.

Services Provided

CIBC is a diversified financial institution, offering an extensive range of financial products and services to clients in Canada. In the United States and in certain other countries, CIBC offers a limited range of products to certain clients. A more complete description of services provided can be found in the 2005 AAR on pages 53 (CIBC Retail Markets), and 56 (CIBC World Markets).

Competitive Conditions

Canada's financial services sector faces intense competition as many of the barriers to entry have been eliminated over the past few years allowing various types of financial institutions to compete in arenas that were previously prohibited. As well, federal laws and regulations have eased to allow foreign banks to operate in Canada and non-financial institutions to establish banking subsidiaries. Finally, the technological advancements have boosted product innovation and encouraged the advent of specialty competitors. CIBC is a major competitor in this landscape, as the third largest chartered bank in Canada in terms of total assets as at year-end 2004 and fifth of the big six banks in market capitalization as at November 11, 2005.

CIBC benefits from strength in both its retail and wholesale operations. Retail strength is evident in the credit card business, successful mortgage offerings and a forte in full-service brokerage. On the wholesale side, CIBC World Markets maintains its leadership position in equity underwriting, income trust deals and a large, diverse and flexible service platform.

Competition is reflected not only in the products and services offered and pricing but also in the distribution strategies and technology employed to gain competitive advantage. Increased competition is also evident in the drive for operating efficiencies that may be enhanced through acquisitions and divestitures. CIBC is committed to reaching its publicly stated goals that are aligned with these facets of competition. This determination and commitment ensures that CIBC continues to be a forceful competitor for many years to come.

Consolidation is underway in the financial services industry in North America. It is anticipated that this consolidation could significantly change the competitive landscape in the years ahead.

SELECTED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Annual Information (Canadian GAAP)

Selected consolidated financial information for the three most recently completed financial years of CIBC is provided on pages 153 to 163 of the 2005 AAR and is incorporated by reference.

DIVIDENDS

The cash dividends declared and paid per share for each class of CIBC shares can be found on pages 118 to 120 of the 2005 AAR and is incorporated by reference.

CIBC is prohibited by the Bank Act from declaring or paying any dividends on its preferred shares or common shares if there are reasonable grounds for believing that CIBC is, or the payment would cause CIBC to be, in contravention of any capital adequacy and liquidity regulation or any direction to CIBC made by the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI) regarding CIBC's capital or liquidity. In addition, under the Bank Act, a bank is prohibited from declaring or paying a dividend in any financial year without the approval of OSFI if, on the day the dividend is declared, the total of all dividends declared by CIBC in that year would exceed the aggregate of CIBC's net income up to that day in that year and of its retained net income for the preceding two financial years. CIBC obtained approval from OSFI for dividends paid on October 28, 2005 and for dividends to be paid on January 28, 2006 in order to satisfy this requirement.

CIBC's ability to pay common share dividends is also restricted by the terms of the outstanding preferred shares which provide that CIBC may not pay dividends on its common shares at any time without the approval of holders of the outstanding preferred shares unless all dividends to which preferred shareholders are then entitled have been declared and paid or set apart for payment.

CIBC has a common share dividend policy of maintaining a balance between the distribution of profits to shareholders and the need to retain earnings consistent with capital strength and supporting growth in its businesses. In the context of this overall policy, CIBC seeks to create a pattern of stable growth in dividends per common share and has established a long-term average payout ratio of earnings attributable to common shareholders of 40-50%.

MATERIAL CONTRACTS

On December 22, 2003, CIBC agreed with the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to a settlement resolving the SEC’s investigation regarding certain structured finance transactions between CIBC and Enron. Without admitting or denying any wrongdoing, CIBC consented to an injunction enjoining it from violations of the anti-fraud provisions of U.S. federal securities laws. Under the settlement, CIBC paid a total of US$80 million in disgorgement, penalties and interest, which was provided for in the 2003 consolidated financial statements. This settlement concluded the SEC’s investigation into Enron-related matters with respect to CIBC.

On the same day, CIBC entered into an agreement with the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ). The DOJ has agreed not to prosecute CIBC for violations of criminal law that, in the DOJ’s view, were committed by CIBC and its employees related to certain structured finance transactions between CIBC and Enron, subject to certain understandings for a three-year period ending December 22, 2006, including: CIBC’s continued cooperation with the DOJ; CIBC’s acceptance of responsibility for conduct of CIBC’s employees; CIBC’s agreement to exit certain structured finance businesses and transactions; CIBC’s agreement to adopt and implement new policies and procedures related to the integrity of client and counterparty financial statements and quarter and year-end transactions; and CIBC’s retention of a law firm to monitor our compliance with these new policies and procedures. Appendix A

Rating Definitions

Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS)

Preferred Shares Rating: Pfd-2(high)
Satisfactory credit quality. Protection of dividends and principal is still substantial, but earnings, the balance sheet and coverage ratios are not as strong as Pfd-1 rated companies. Generally Pfd-2 ratings correspond with companies whose senior bonds are rated ‘A’ category.

Senior Debt Rating: A(high)
Satisfactory credit quality. Protection of interest and principal is substantial, but the degree of strength is less than that of AA rated entities. While “A” is a respectable rating, entities in this category are considered to be more susceptible to adverse economic conditions and have greater cyclical tendencies than higher-rated securities.

Subordinated Debt Rating: A
Satisfactory credit quality. Protection of interest and principal is still substantial, but the degree of strength is less than with AA rated entities. While a respectable rating, entities in the “A” category are considered to be more susceptible to adverse economic conditions and have greater cyclical tendencies than higher rated companies.

Short-Term Debt Rating: R-1 (mid)
Superior credit quality and, in most cases, ratings in this category differ from R-1 (high) credits by only a small degree. Given the stringent requirements DBRS has established for the R-1 (high) category, entities rated R-1 (middle) are also considered strong credits, and typically exemplify above average strength in key areas of consideration for the timely repayment of short-term liabilities.

Moody’s

Senior Debt Rating: Aa3
Debts judged to be of high quality by all standards. Together with the Aaa group they comprise what are generally known as high-grade debts. They are rated lower than the best debts because margins of protection may not be as large as in Aaa securities or fluctuation of protective elements may be of greater amplitude or there may be other elements present which make the long-term risk appear somewhat larger than the Aaa securities

Subordinated Debt Rating: A1
Banks rated A possess exceptional intrinsic financial strength. Typically, they will be major institutions with highly valuable and defensible business franchises, strong financial fundamentals, and a very attractive and stable operating environment

Short-Term Debt Rating: P-1
Prime-1 Issuers rated Prime-1 (or supporting institutions) have a superior ability for repayment of senior short-term debt obligations. Prime-1 repayment ability will often be evidenced by many of the following characteristics:

- Leading market positions in well-established industries.
- High rates of return on funds employed.
- Conservative capitalization structure with moderate reliance on debt and ample asset protection.
- Broad margins in earnings coverage of fixed financial charges and high internal cash generation.
- Well-established access to a range of financial markets and assured sources of alternate liquidity

Standard & Poor's (S&P)

Preferred Shares

Canadian Rating: P-1(low)

Global Rating: A-

The P-1 and A ratings are the highest of the five categories used by S&P in its respective Canadian and Global preferred share rating scales. "High" and "Low" and "+" and "-" grades may be used to indicate the relative standing of a credit within a particular rating category.

Senior Debt

Rating: A+

Subordinated Debt

Rating: A

Obligations rated 'A' are somewhat more susceptible to the adverse effects of changes in circumstances and economic conditions than obligations in higher rated categories. However, the obligor's capacity to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is still strong.

Short-Term Debt

Rating: A-1

A short-term obligation rated 'A-1' is rated in the highest category by Standard & Poor's. The obligor's capacity to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is strong.

Fitch

Senior Debt

Rating: AA-

High credit quality. 'AA(ind)' ratings indicate a low expectation of credit risk. They indicate strong capacity for timely payment of financial commitments. This capacity may vary slightly from time to time because of economic conditions

Subordinated Debt

Rating: A+

Adequate credit quality. 'A' ratings indicate that there is currently a low expectation of credit risk. The capacity for timely payment of commitments is considered adequate. This capacity may, nevertheless, be more vulnerable to changes in circumstances or in economic conditions than is the case for higher ratings.

Short-Term Debt

Rating: F1+

Highest credit quality. Indicates the strongest capacity for timely payment of financial commitments.

(Within a band of rating symbols, the signs "+" (plus) or "-" (minus) denote relative position within the rating category.)

Appendix C
Policy on the Scope of Services of the Shareholders' Auditors

This policy is effective from the date of Audit Committee approval, February 26, 2004 and applies to all subsequent engagements.

- A. Purpose – The purpose of this policy is to set parameters for the engagement of the shareholders' auditor by CIBC consistent with CIBC corporate governance expectations and applicable law, including the U.S. Sarbanes-Oxley Act.
- B. Scope – This Policy covers all work that might be performed by the shareholders' auditor through engagements with CIBC or its subsidiaries.
- C. Definition of Shareholders' Auditor as used in this Policy – The term shareholders' auditor refers to the firm of accountants that is appointed to perform the audit of the consolidated financial statements of CIBC and its subsidiaries. The current shareholders' auditors are Ernst & Young LLP, including any Ernst & Young International, Ltd. or Ernst & Young Global Limited member or affiliated firm of Ernst & Young.
- D. Accountability for Management of the Policy – The Chief Auditor is accountable for the management of this Policy and providing interpretations on its application.
- E. Statement of Policy

Scope of work and authorization standards:

1. All work performed by the shareholders' auditor for CIBC or its subsidiaries will be pre-approved by the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee may delegate authority to pre-approve such work to subcommittees consisting of one or more of its members, provided that any work so pre-approved must be ratified by the full Audit Committee at the next meeting of the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee may also establish pre-approval policies and procedures that are specific to a particular service. In order to meet this responsibility, for each fiscal quarter a pre-approved spending limit by category of allowable work is established and displayed in Table A below. The Chief Auditor will monitor and report to the Audit Committee the quarterly cumulative use of the pre-approved limits.
2. In the event that a non-audit service is provided by the shareholders' auditor that was not recognized at the time of the engagement to be a non-audit service, such service must be brought to the attention of the Audit Committee or its delegate for approval.
3. The shareholders' auditor will only perform audit, audit-related and tax work. Definitions of "audit", "audit-related" and "tax work", along with examples, are included in Table A below.
4. The shareholders' auditor will be prohibited from performing corporate recovery work for a CIBC corporate credit customer when CIBC is in a position to direct the choice of the financial advisors or consultants.
5. The Audit Committee may approve exceptions to (3) and (4) above when it determines that such an exception is in the overriding best interests of CIBC and it is determined that such an exception does not impair the independence of the shareholders' auditor. However, certain non-audit activities are generally prohibited and generally will not be considered for exception from this policy. These non-audit activities are listed in Table A below.

Ongoing relationship standards:

1. The lead and concurring partners on the engagement will serve for a maximum of five years and then be subject to a five-year time out from serving on CIBC audits.
2. Other than the lead and the concurring partners, audit partners who have responsibility for decision-making on significant auditing, accounting and reporting matters will serve for a maximum of seven years and then be subject to a two-year time out from serving on CIBC audits, unless the audit partner performs less than 10 hours of audit, review or attest services.

3. CIBC will not employ, in a financial reporting oversight role, a member of the shareholders' auditor engagement team within 12 months of the final closure of the audit in which that individual last participated.

F. Measurement and Reporting Processes

1. On a quarterly basis, the Chief Auditor will prepare and present to the Audit Committee a summary report of all engagements of the shareholders' auditor that are currently underway or have been completed since the prior quarter's report, including engagements entered into pursuant to pre-approved quarterly limits. The summary report will describe the nature of each engagement, confirm that each engagement is in compliance with this policy and state the fees received by the shareholders' auditor for each engagement.
2. Business management will make either oral or written presentations to the Audit Committee or its designee seeking pre-approvals for engagements of the shareholders' auditor.
3. On a quarterly basis, the shareholders' auditor will certify to the Audit Committee that all engagements with CIBC have been in compliance with this policy and will confirm that the shareholders' auditor continues to be "independent" under applicable laws, rules and guidelines. As well, quarterly the shareholders' auditor will table at the Audit Committee a classification and continuity schedule of all partners and staff that must be tracked in order to ensure adherence to the Ongoing Relationship Standards.
4. The Chief Auditor will be a signatory on all contracts of engagement with the shareholders' auditors.
