Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

Investment Objective: CIBC Active Investment Grade Corporate Bond ETF (referred to as the CIBC ETF) seeks to generate a high level of current income while preserving capital by investing primarily in bonds, debentures, notes and other debt instruments of Canadian issuers.

Investment Strategies: The CIBC ETF invests primarily in Canadian investment grade corporate bonds based primarily on security selection, sector allocation, and average term-to-maturity. Portfolio assets are allocated to those securities and sectors of the corporate bond market that the portfolio advisor expects will outperform. The CIBC ETF undertakes a bottom-up analysis of corporate bond issuers combined with top-down analysis of a sector's potential in a given economic environment.

Risk

The CIBC ETF is a Canadian corporate fixed income ETF that is suitable for medium term investors who can tolerate low investment risk.

For the period ended December 31, 2023, the CIBC ETF's overall level of risk remained as discussed in the prospectus.

Results of Operations

The CIBC ETF's portfolio advisor is CIBC Asset Management Inc. (referred to as CAMI or the Portfolio Advisor). The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the period ended December 31, 2023. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

The CIBC ETF's net asset value increased by 11% during the period, from $1,119,451 as at December 31, 2022 to $1,240,928 as at December 31, 2023. Net sales of $70,294 and positive investment performance resulted in an overall increase in net asset value.

The CIBC ETF posted a return of 8.3% for the period. The CIBC ETF's benchmark, the FTSE Canada All Corporate Bond Index (referred to as the benchmark), returned 8.4% for the same period. The CIBC ETF's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the benchmark's return.

Despite significant volatility, longer-term bond yields declined modestly over the period as markets gained confidence that central banks could begin lowering their policy rates in 2024.

Both the Bank of Canada (referred to as the BoC) and the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (referred to as the Fed) continued to increase their policy rates in an ongoing effort to bring inflation down to their target level of 2%. The BoC raised its benchmark overnight interest rate to 5.00% from 4.25%, while the Fed raised the target range of its federal funds rate to 5.25%–5.50%.

Early in 2023, the BoC had implemented a “conditional pause” in an effort to assess the impact of previously implemented tightening initiatives. However, as growth reaccelerated, the pause was lifted in June. It was later reinstated as economic growth contracted and inflation continued to slow.

The Canadian yield curve, defined as the difference between two-year and 30-year bond yields, continued to invert as short-term interest rates rose while 30-year bond yields declined. Demand for Canadian long-term bonds remained exceptionally strong, partially as a result of a lack of supply. Canadian bonds outperformed U.S. bonds, partly owing to Canada's weaker economy relative to the U.S.

Corporate bonds outperformed as credit spreads (the difference in yield between corporate and government bonds with the same maturity) continued to narrow. This outperformance stemmed from strong demand for risk assets, materially lower issuance of new bonds and better-than-anticipated profitability and credit fundamentals. However, corporate bond markets were volatile, particularly following the collapse of several U.S. regional banks in March. Regulators, the U.S. Treasury and the Fed quickly stepped in to help calm markets.

Moderate overweight allocations to federal and provincial bonds detracted from the CIBC ETF's performance, as did a moderate underweight exposure to the utilities sector. The largest individual detractors from performance included holdings in Bank of Montreal (2.08%, 2030/06/17), Loblaw Cos. Ltd. (6.50%, 2029/01/22) and Sun Life Financial Inc. (2.58%, 2032/05/10).

Moderate underweight allocations to bank senior debt and the securitization sector contributed to the CIBC ETF's performance, as did a moderate overweight exposure to the pipelines industry. Top individual contributors to performance included holdings in Enbridge Inc. (6.51%, 2052/11/09), Ventas Canada Finance Ltd. (3.30%, 2031/12/01) and Ontario Power Generation Inc. (3.84%, 2048/06/22).

A new holding was added to the CIBC ETF in The Toronto-Dominion Bank (2.67%, 2025/09/09), while the existing holding in Manulife Financial Corp. (5.41%, 2033/03/10) was increased as the Portfolio Advisor believed their credit spreads were attractive for highly rated issuers. A new holding was added in TransCanada PipeLines Ltd. (5.33%, 2032/05/12) and the existing holding in SmartCentres REIT (3.44%, 2026/08/28) was increased as the Portfolio Advisor believed they offered attractive credit spreads on a relative basis.

Bank of America Corp. (3.62%, 2028/03/16) was sold as the Portfolio Advisor believed it had an unattractive relative credit spread. Choice Properties REIT (6.01%, 2032/06/24) was eliminated to increase the CIBC ETF's credit quality.

The CIBC ETF's holdings in The Toronto-Dominion Bank (3.11%, 2030/04/22) and National Bank of Canada (5.43%, 2032/08/16) were trimmed, based on what the Portfolio Advisor considered to be their unattractive relative credit spreads.

Recent Developments

Effective April 27, 2023, Bryan Houston was appointed Chair of the Independent Review Committee.

The COVID-19 pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine war have disrupted the global economy and financial markets in unprecedented and unpredictable ways. This has resulted in significant volatility and uncertainty in financial markets. It is unclear what further actions may be taken by governments and the resulting impact on global economies, businesses and financial markets. Inflation has increased in many markets across the globe, leading central banks to raise interest rates in order to counter rapidly rising prices. These factors may adversely affect the performance of the CIBC ETF. The Manager continues to monitor ongoing developments and the impact to investment strategies.

Related Party Transactions

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (referred to as CIBC) and its affiliates have the following roles and responsibilities with respect to the CIBC ETF, and receive the fees described below in connection with their roles and responsibilities.

Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor of the CIBC ETF

CAMI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the CIBC ETF's Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor. CAMI receives management fees with respect to the CIBC ETF's day-to-day business and operations, calculated based on the net asset value of units of the CIBC ETF as described in Management Fees. As Trustee, CAMI holds title to the CIBC ETF's property (cash and securities) on behalf of its unitholders. As Portfolio Advisor, CAMI provides, or arranges to provide for, investment advice and portfolio management services to the CIBC ETF. CAMI also compensates dealers in connection with their marketing activities regarding the CIBC ETF. From time to time, CAMI may invest in units of the CIBC ETF.

Designated Broker and Dealer

CAMI has entered into an agreement with CIBC World Markets Inc. (referred to as CIBC WM), an affiliate of CAMI, to act as designated broker and dealer for distribution of the CIBC ETF, on terms and conditions that are comparable to arm's length agreements in the exchange traded funds industry.

Brokerage Arrangements and Soft Dollars

The Portfolio Advisor makes decisions, including the selection of markets and dealers and the negotiation of commissions, with respect to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, certain derivative products and the execution of portfolio transactions. Brokerage business may be allocated by the Portfolio Advisor to CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., each a subsidiary of CIBC. CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp. may also earn spreads on the sale of fixed income and other securities, and certain derivative products to the CIBC ETF. A spread is the difference between the bid and ask prices for a security in the applicable marketplace, with respect to the execution of portfolio transactions. The spread will differ based upon various factors such as the nature and liquidity of the security.

Dealers, including CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., may furnish goods and services, other than order execution, to the Portfolio Advisor when they process trades through them (referred to in the industry as "soft-dollar" arrangements). These goods and services are paid for with a portion of the brokerage commissions and assist the Portfolio Advisor with investment decision-making services for the CIBC ETF or relate directly to the execution of portfolio transactions on behalf of the CIBC ETF. Any soft dollar arrangements shall be in compliance with applicable laws.

During the period, the CIBC ETF did not pay any brokerage commissions or other fees to CIBC WM or CIBC World Markets Corp. Spreads associated with fixed income and other securities are not ascertainable and, for that reason, cannot be included when determining these amounts.

CIBC ETF Transactions

The CIBC ETF may enter into one or more of the following transactions (referred to as the Related Party Transactions) in reliance on the standing instructions issued by the Independent Review Committee (referred to as referred to as the IRC):

- to invest in or hold equity securities of CIBC or issuers related to the Portfolio Advisor;
- to invest in or hold non-exchange-traded debt securities of CIBC or an issuer related to CIBC in a primary offering and in the secondary market;
- to make an investment in the securities of an issuer for which CIBC WM, CIBC World Markets Corp., or any affiliate of CIBC (a "Related Dealer" or the "Related Dealers") acts as an underwriter during the offering of the securities or at any time during the 60-day period following the completion of the offering of such securities, including in respect of equity securities of a reporting issuer pursuant to a "private placement" offering (an offering under exemptions from the prospectus requirements) and for the 60-day period following the completion of the offering, in each case in accordance with certain conditions;

- to purchase equity and debt securities from, or sell them to, a Related Dealer, where it is acting as principal;
- undertake currency and currency derivative transactions where a Related Dealer is the counterparty;
- to purchase securities from, or sell securities to, another investment fund or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate (referred to as inter-fund trades or "cross-trades"), subject to certain conditions; and
- to engage in in-specie transfers by receiving portfolio securities from, or delivering portfolio securities to, a managed account or another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate in respect of a purchase or redemption of Units of the CIBC ETF, subject to certain conditions.

At least annually, the IRC reviews the Related Party Transactions for which they have issued standing instructions. The IRC is required to advise the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, after a matter has been referred or reported to the IRC by the Manager, if it determines that an investment decision was not made in accordance with a condition imposed by securities legislation or the IRC in any Related Party Transactions requiring its approval.

Custodian

CIBC Mellon Trust Company is the custodian of the CIBC ETF (referred to as the Custodian). The Custodian holds cash, securities, and other assets of the CIBC ETF and ensures that those assets are kept separate from any other cash, securities, or other assets that the custodian might be holding. The Custodian also provides other services to the CIBC ETF including record-keeping and processing of foreign exchange transactions. The fees and spreads for the services of the Custodian are paid by the Manager. CIBC owns a 50% interest in the Custodian.

Service Provider

CIBC Mellon Global Securities Services Company Inc. (referred to as CIBC GSS) provides certain services to the CIBC ETF, including securities lending, fund accounting and reporting, and portfolio valuation. Such servicing fees are paid by the Manager. CIBC indirectly owns a 50% interest in CIBC GSS.

^a Information presented is for the period from the inception date to December 31.

^b Initial offering price.

* Ratio has been annualized.

² Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The total increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding during the period.

³ Distributions were paid in cash, reinvested in additional units of the CIBC ETF, or both.

⁵ Management expense ratio is based on the total expenses of the CIBC ETF (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), incurred by or allocated to a series of units for the period shown, expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value of that series during the period. The management expense ratio includes the fees attributable to exchange traded funds, where applicable.

⁶ The decision to waive management fees is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving management fees may continue indefinitely or may be terminated at any time without notice to unitholders. The management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions includes the fees attributable to exchange traded funds, where applicable.

⁸ The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the portfolio advisor and/or portfolio sub-advisor manages the portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the CIBC ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the CIBC ETF in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the CIBC ETF.

Management Fees

The CIBC ETF pays CAMI an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the CIBC ETF. Management fees are based on the CIBC ETF's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CAMI in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, and office overhead expenses related to the Manager's activities and the fees of the Portfolio Advisor are paid by CAMI out of the management fees received from the CIBC ETFs. The CIBC ETF is required to pay applicable taxes on the management fees paid to CAMI. Refer to the CIBC ETF's prospectus for the annual management fee rate.

For the period ended December 31, 2023, 100% of the management fees collected from the CIBC ETF was attributable to general administration and investment advice.

Past Performance

The performance data provided assumes reinvestment of distributions only and does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, or other optional charges payable by any unitholder that would have reduced returns. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how a fund will perform in the future.

The CIBC ETF's returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratio.

Year-by-Year Returns

These bar charts show the annual performance of each series of units of the CIBC ETF for each of the periods shown, and illustrate how the performance has changed from period to period.
